TWO SOULS

Whom God Hath Joined Together.

DELM. COWGILL.
Married, on Wednesday evening, the 10th inst., in the Episcopal church, Rev. Arthur Douglas officiating, Mr. Harvey C. Helm and Miss Anna P. Cowgill.

A prettier wedding or one celebrated under happier auspices has never been witnessed. The ceremony was said at 7 o'clock in the Episcopal church by Rev. Arthur Douglas. The effective decorations arranged in pyramids of palms, formed fitting backgrounds for the bridal party, and the profusion of white flowers and soft green foliage was most lovely in the chancel. The church was filled with a throng of friends waiting, who were entertained with a beautifully rendered duet—one of Mendelssohn's songs, without words, by Mr. J. Miller and Miss Jessie Eder, and a vocal duet, in rich soprano voices by Messdames Kate Miller and Clara Cowgill, "Life and Love Thine." Under the same symphony of Mendelssohn's strains the bridal party entered the church: Allie Tyler and John Dillon, ushers; Edith Liden and Miss Nannie Rogers; Miss Grace Helm, Maid of Honor; then the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, and they were met by the groom and his best man, Kenneth Anderson, preceded by the Minister, from the vestry room, at the altar, where the ceremony of uniting these two loving hearts was performed with the father giving the bride away and placing her hand in the hand of her chosen one and the bride and groom kneeling at the altar upon white satin cushions to receive the benediction at the end of the service that united their lives forever. During the sacred ceremony the sweet strains of "Whisper What Thou Fearest," added to the improvement of the solemn marriage vows. The ceremony ended the bridal party retired to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride was gowned in Moussin D. Rose, trimmed in embroidered chiffon and satin ribbon, wearing a jet bracelet with hand that was her grand mother's, a becoming veil of tulle, white tulle and carrying bridal noose.

Bridesmaid, Miss Nannie Rogers, wore a dainty white Pansy D. Sport, carrying Le Frances rose.

Miss Grace Helm, a pretty Miss Mullin, carrying Le Frances rose.

This popular young couple enjoy the best wishes of all and they are worthy of the highest encomiums that words can express. They left the night of the marriage for a bridal trip, spending a week in Memphis, and several weeks in Las Vegas, New Mexico. They were the recipients of many presents.

Balloon Ascension Saturday.

Prof. Eckhart announces positively, that he will make one of his thrilling aerial ascensions, tomorrow afternoon (Saturday) conditional only that the wind will permit. He much regrets the disappointment to the people Tuesday, but it was no fault of his or was explained to all. The ascension to-morrow is a certainty if the elements permit.

—Mr. A. W. Lindsay has been absent in Chicago, the past week.

—Miss Mary Pierce, of Milan, Tenn., is visiting Mrs. Ivy Cheek.

—Miss Bonah Schmitt, of Metropolis, Ill., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Heuser.

—Mr. Ben Shaw, the popular salesman, is back in the house of M. H. Shaw's, where he would be pleased to see his old friends and customers.

—Mrs. Jennie McCutchen leaves on the first boat for Larrea, Ark., where she is called by the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. P. D. Turner.

—Miss Maud Smith, daughter of Mr. Charles Smith, the merchant, died Tuesday night. She was about 17 years of age, just budding into womanhood, and until her late illness was a striking picture of health and personal beauty. Deep sympathy goes out to her bereaved parents.

—Through the efforts of that bustling and energetic young stockman, Capt. J. W. Martin, Jr., of Woodland Mills, a livestock purchasing company has been founded at that town, composed of Capt. Martin, J. D. Alexander, and J. D. Jones, three of our country's best stockmen, and parties having any sort of livestock for sale would do well to see them before selling elsewhere.

—For three days and nights I suffered agony until from an attack of cholera I was brought to by eating cucumbers," says M. R. Lowmyer, clerk of the district court, at Louisville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three hours relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Cowgill & Cowgill, Hickman, and A. M. Shaw, State Line, Ky.

THE FIRST LEEVEE IN TENNESSEE

Contract Closed in Memphis Last Week.

Lake County Bonds Ready to be Turned Over to the Purchasers Thereof.

Aid of the Federal Government May be Invoked if Local Support is Found Insufficient.

[Memphis Scimitar.]
Jas. C. Harris, chairman of the Lake County Levee Commission, who is in the city this morning from Unionville, Mo., was at the office of Captain E. E. Winslow, of the United States engineers, by a Scimitar reporter.

"I am in Memphis," said Mr. Harris, "for the purpose of closing our contract with J. H. Gentry, to whom the work of building the Lake county levee was awarded, and to make the final arrangements as to our bonds. These, which amount to $100,000, I will deliver this afternoon to the Continental Savings Bank."

"When do you expect to begin work on the new levee?" asked the Scimitar man.

"Mr. Gentry, if all goes well, expects to start within the month, and I think he will hold to his promise."

"How much time is to be done?" "About twenty miles. The levee extends from Hickman, Ky., to the highlands of Lake county. The levee is in some places over twenty feet high. Mr. D. A. Kelly, our resident engineer, has worked hard to pick out the most feasible location, and to save us as much yardage as possible. It is the first levee Tennessee has ever asked any Federal assistance in building, but the need in our case was imperative. The $100,000 in bonds I mentioned is the money of the people of Lake county, but I hardly think it will be sufficient to complete the work. In that case we have asked the assistance of the Federal government, or the Mississippi River Commission."

"Is this ever considered one of great importance, Mr. Harris?"

"Very much so. The country which it will protect is one of the richest cotton raising regions in the whole State, and heretofore we have been as the mercy of every flood. The levee, if completed, will save us from such a disaster. Just how long it will take to do the work I can't say, but it will be pushed to the limit."

Mr. Harris mentioned in passing that the crops in his section of the country were in great shape, and that the planters were feeling well satisfied at the prospect of such a good price for cotton.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a bottle of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. B. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend to assist her in a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I considered that a very good recommendation for the remedy. It is for sale by Cowgill & Cowgill, Hickman, and A. M. Shaw, State Line, Ky."

WHAT BRYAN FAVORS.

I have my idea of what civilization should mean. I want to see if it is your idea. Some people say that we Democrats are enemies of property. It is not true. I have a home, I hope I may some time have a better one. I would that every head of a family had a home, and the better the home the happier I would be. I want property to be the reward of industry, and I want every citizen to be secure in the enjoyment of the proceeds of his toil. I do not envy the rich. I am not desirous of pulling them down. I want a civilization that makes every pair of hands hope to be better off and relieves the rich man of the fear that his children will be trampled on if they ever become poor. I want a civilization that embraces within its benefits every deserving member of society. I do not want a civilization that will prevent a man from riding in a carriage, but I want a civilization that gives hope to the driver of the carriage as well as the man who rides in it. I want a civilization that gives hope to the girl who works in the kitchen as well as the one who sits in the parlor. I want a civilization that makes life worth living to every human being. And when I speak thus I am not an selfish man, an selfish. I do not know what may be my life in the years to come. I do not know that will be the lot of my children, and if I dared to favor a system that helped the few at the expense of the many, my children may be among the many who will suffer rather than among the few who will profit by the law.

A NEW remedy for biliousness is now on sale at Cowgill & Cowgill's, Hickman, and A. M. Shaw's, at State Line. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. It is a mild and reliable remedy and will prevent the attack if given as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. Price 50c per box. Samples free.

A FOOLISH GIRL.

Engaged in a clandestine Marriage and Then Backs Out.

METROPOLIS, ILL., Oct. 3. Metropolis social circles were surprised by the announcement in a local paper of the recent marriage of Miss Veta Mulkey of this city, and Edward Passo, of San Angelo, Texas. The bride is the youngest daughter of Judge J. H. Mulkey, one of the supreme judges of Illinois, and is very popular in Metropolis.

A year ago Miss Mulkey visited relatives in San Angelo, Texas, and while there she met Mr. Passo, a wealthy ranch owner of that city. It was a case of love at first sight. The couple returned to Metropolis in the summer of 1906, and in the month of August, 1906, they were secretly married at the Palmer House.

The young man remained here for a week and then returned to San Angelo to prepare the home for his bride.

Arrangements were made for a public wedding, and in the meantime the future bride was to be kept secret. Not even the young lady's parents were informed, and the secret was still held by a newspaper man, who made the story public in this city.

Now the bride publicly announces that she does not, and never has, loved Passo, and will not live with him. The wedding which had been planned for yesterday did not occur.

Mrs. Mulkey Passo, in a statement, says: "I was a foolish girl, and I believe I love him, but I do not love him, and I do not believe in acting a farce. I regret that the matter has become public, but it can't be helped now."

MOVED TO ST. LOUIS.

The wooden mill's office fixtures at Mayfield are being shipped to St. Louis, where all the clerical work will be done in the future.

Charles Newman, Hester Brizendine and Dan McGinnis will go on Sunday. Boone Hancock will have charge of what office work is required for the department here.

The mills will run here the same as in the past, for the present. Some of the idle sewing machines may be moved there. They now have 140 sewing machines in the pantmaking department here and do not use all of them.—Mayfield Messenger.

The Anthracite Strike.

Now that President Mitchell has called a convention of the striking anthracite miners to meet, it is to be hoped the strike will be soon settled. The offer of 10 per cent advance wages and the reduction in the price of powder are such concessions to the miners that it is difficult to see how they can refuse to accept them. It is estimated that some 100,000 men are employed in the coal and iron industries here, and many of them are dependent on their pay. The miners have been faulted by various circumstances in addition to the vital one that they had undoubted grievances. The strike was timed so near the presidential election that political and the banking interests were enlisted in behalf of a settlement. The undoubted activity in anthracite mining was another important item in favor of the men.

7th Ky. Confed. Re-Union

Mayville, Ky., Sept. 28, 1906.

To Thomas Dillon, Sr., Commander of Camp Jo Ward, Hickman, Unit Confederate Veterans.

In compliance with invitation of camp Charles Wickliffe of Wickliffe, Ky., to the various camps comprising the 7th Ky. Reg. of the United Confederate Veterans to meet in annual business and social re-union, with said camp, Charles Wickliffe, on the lakes near Wickliffe, Ky., of which invitation the various Commanders of Camps have uniformly and in response have indicated a desire to accept said invitation.

It is therefore ordered, that the Commanders respectively of the several camps comprising the said 7th Ky. Reg. of U. C. V., assemble their respective camps to meet with said camp Charles Wickliffe in annual business and social re-union on the lakes above indicated on Wednesday and Thursday, the 24th and 25th of Oct. 1906, at all necessary forage, returns and other arrangements for two days open.

The different commanders are requested to invite friends and all ex-combatants, not identified with and Regiment, to meet with us on the same.

FOOLISH THE FARMER.

Doubtful Rural Districts Are to be Given Free Delivery Full After Election.

Information from an official source has been received at Democratic National headquarters in Chicago that the Postoffice department at Washington, under orders from Mark Hanna, is making arrangements to make a thirty days' trial of rural postal delivery in all doubtful localities in Iowa, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana—in fact, in all doubtful States. They hope to do this to make farmers believe the Republican party is doing much for them. This scheme is to be instituted in all doubtful localities early in October, while it is to be withdrawn in strong Republican localities.

That such is Hanna's latest gold-brick scheme is borne out by a Washington report saying that the free delivery system was inaugurated last week in three or four counties in Maryland, and that it is to be extended to some other States.

As soon as the election is held the rural carrier routes will be abolished, and the farmers will continue to go to town for their mail.—National Democrat.

WAR FINES $10 PER FAMILY.

The census of 1900 is expected to show a population for the United States of 75,000,000 to 80,000,000. The yearly current cost of holding the Philippines three-fourths amounts to nearly $100,000,000 per individual. It accordingly amounts to $10 per year for each average family. To the large majority of families in the United States this sum is money or quite equal to what the bonds thereof are able to earn in a week.

The taxes which go to meet this most costly enterprise are collected from the people in indirect and unobtrusive ways. But they are taken, nevertheless, out of the pockets of the people, and not according to ability to pay, but according to the consumption of the necessities of life. They are paid upon the necessities of life, and not upon the luxuries of life, and they are paid directly, and they reduce by so much the earnings of the laborer which go to his support and enjoyment.

Suppose this system of taxation were changed to a direct system, and once a year the federal tax gatherers were to pass up and down the country, knocking at every door, and asking each family to contribute $10 for what? For the holding of a distant and unswilling people in subjection for the mere glory and their exploitation by the syndicates and trusts. How long would such a system of taxation be tolerated? It would be met with greater unanimity than any other proposition ever was which came before the American people and would have an opportunity to vote it down, it would cause domestic revolution.

"The Lake County Press has changed hands. Mr. James C. and Judge Harris bought the publishers. They have bought it not as a speculation, but to use it in promoting the interest of the people living in the lake lands. The Press, Minn. and west of the Chickawago bluffs." The possibilities of this vast territory of rich lands, with proper protection and development, is a great field for newspaper help and enterprise. The Citizens' Association has been long persuaded that a local paper is the best method of a community when backed by brains and local capital and we now have this opportunity in the Lake County Press, and here we shall look with much interest to the future work.

A PEACH STONE.

The Innocent Cause of a Child's Wound Probably Fatal.

Henderson Gloger.

The little four-year-old daughter of Mr. Joe Dean, who lived on Ward Yewell's farm, sustained probably a fatal accident Wednesday says the Owensboro Messenger. The little girl was in an upstairs room, and had started down the stairs when she fell and rolled to the foot of the stairs. Her head struck a peach stone with such force as to drive it into her head, and she died at the hospital. The brain was penetrated, and a portion of it was cut out of the wound. Dr. Dean was summoned and he says she may recover, but that the wound is of such a nature that it is liable to produce death at any time later in life.

The Salaried Physicians.

As many know, the Chinese physician receives a salary from his patients as long as they are well, and as soon as they get ill he pays stop. Some American families, not dissatisfied to learn something from the other side of the world, have partially adopted the same plan, that is, they pay the salary whether they are sick or well, and it is, of course, the interest of the doctor to keep them as well as he can so as to save himself the trouble of attending them.

When the Chinese method, or the American modification of it, comes into general practice, it will be the interest of the physician who has charge of a family to study such number of it physically, mentally, spiritually; to preserve for the correct maintenance of proper diet and healthy habits, and to keep the view of inducing them to keep in touch with all these. Will Carleton's Magazine.

FURIED BY THE TRUSTS.

There is a peculiar significance in the fact that the Philadelphia Times, which recently reported Mr. McKim in 1906, now comes out in advocacy of the trust system, and that the majority of members of the Associated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, with certain thoughtful leaders of that organization have reached the conclusion that their best interest demand the success of the Democratic party.

In both instances the trust here has compelled the success of strength to the Democratic cause.
